What is go4peace?

go4peace started in 1995 in the rubble of the Balkan war. Young people from different European countries started to work on reconstruction there. The leitmotifs were mottos like "don't stop giving", "forgive and give" and "be brother, be sister". From this shared life arose the youth center "Ivan Pavao II" in Sarajevo / Bosnia and Herzegovina, which Pope Francis visited in 2015. He encouraged the young people: "You have an important vocation to never build walls but bridges."

More than 1,300 young people from 29 different nations have been involved in the go4peace camps across Europe. Go4peace has become a way of life for many young people to live actively for peace in their everyday lives. They have learned that peace is possible across all borders of nations, religions and generations. The objective of the go4peace e.V. is to help these young Europeans and thereby to contribute to peace in Europe.

What are the objectives of go4peace?

- Promoting international youth exchange with the focus on Europe
- Promoting international intercultural understanding and intercultural exchange between young people
